We partner with our customers and employees to protect lives, property, and client infrastructure while making projects wildly successful through our delivery of high-quality services. We add value to the process by integrating innovation and technology into everything we do while challenging the status quo.

Why Sparus?

Sparus Holdings is a leading provider of outsourced field and professional services primarily focused on the gas and electric utility markets. Its subsidiaries includes Southern Cross, The Spear Group, NAFS, OneVision, TruCheck, ULS, and Allegiant. Sparus provides a unique blend of differentiated, yet complementary services to provide a tightly integrated solution set for its customers while expanding its addressable market and future growth prospects.

Sparus's subsidiaries are widely recognized as leaders within their respective industry segments. They provide a complementary suite of field, professional services, technology, and products supporting the inspection, maintenance, repair, and replacement of critical electric and gas utility infrastructure. Sparus serves the full scope of customers' outsourced services needs across a variety of end markets and technology-enabled service offerings.
